Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in —

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a);

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hashimoto. Regarding claim 1, Hashimoto discloses a connector comprising a generally rectangular card C; a housing 11 having a generally box-shaped housing space for housing said card, said housing space including a first side face, two second side faces adjoining said first side face, and an insert face adjoining said first side face and said second side faces for admitting said inserted card; wherein said housing has an engaging portion (i.e. the top wall of the housing 11) formed along said first side face of said housing space, and a pair of holding portions 20 formed along said second side faces, each of said holding portions having a flexible portion 33 extending along said second side face and elastically deformable outside, and a lock piece 32 disposed along said flexible portion for covering a portion of said insert face; and whereby said lock pieces pushed by end edges of said card to open outside when one end side of said card is engaged to said engaging portion and the other end side of said card is turned toward said housing, and said lock pieces lock said card when said card is housed in said housing space, and including a second lock piece (see attachment) generally disposed at right angles to a forefront of the flexible portion.

Per claim 2, at least a portion of the end edge of said lock piece which touches said card is chamfered (the "corner" or edge is "cut off" inherently, due to the continuity of the surface between inclined portion 36 and the board holding portion 34, see figure 2d).

Per claim 3, an angle formed between the end edges of said lock pieces and the end edges of said card is zero degrees or more, and less than 90 degrees.

Per claim 4, the one end side of said card is housed in said housing space and the other end side of said card is not housed in said housing space when one end side of said card is engaged to said engaging portions.

Per claim 5, said holding portions enclose said housing space.

Claims 6, 7, 9, and 10 are rejected for the reasons pertaining to claims 1-5.

Per claim 8 said card is "substantially identical" in shape to said insert face (in the same sense that applicant uses the term "substantially identical" to mean apparently that the card fits over the insert face, given that applicant's card and insert face are not at all identical as shown in applicant's figure 4).

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues that Hashimoto does not disclose the second lock piece as claimed. The examiner disagrees and has noted the second lock piece on the attachment.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
